

N. Y. City Will Help Fishing in Esopus by Water Flow Control

City Officials Will Cooperate With Game Club to Make Esopus Favored Fishing Grounds During Summer.

For some time the Esopus Fish and Game Association has been endeavoring to secure some cooperation with the City of New York officials on the control of the flow of the water from the Shandaken portal down the Esopus Creek to the Ashokan reservoir in order that the trout fishing along the Esopus creek might be preserved.

The association has been notified that the city will control the flow of water for the remainder of the season in such a manner so as not to interfere with fishing. Many fishermen have complained that the city did not control the flow of water through the Shandaken tunnel and that it was permitted to run through even in high water times when the normal flow of the Esopus raised that stream to such an extent that fishing was poor. The addition of the Gilboa water to the Esopus water for days at a time prevented fishing in the Esopus in the vicinity of Phoenicia where some of the best trout waters in the Catskills may be found.

Visitors as well as local fishermen became discouraged at the condition and the uncertainty of whether the creek would provide good fishing has diverted much business from hotels and boarding houses in the vicinity of Phoenicia. Fishermen coming many miles to fish the creek over the week-end would find the creek too high to fish and discouraged would return home and frequently failed to return to Phoenicia again.

Last year the matter of control of the flow, especially over week-ends, was taken up by the local sportsmen's clubs and again this year the Phoenicia club tried to come to some agreement with the city officials. Announcement was made recently by an official of the club that a promise had been made by the city to control the flow from the portal down for the rest of the present season.

City engineers claim that before proper control can be had considerable money must be spent in installing control gates. At present the city apparently has not the necessary funds in the department's treasury for such work but it had been recommended that when funds become available that the work be done.

RESUMES ASCENSION DAY CUSTOM ABANDONED IN 1870

Rome, May 25 (AP)—Pope Pius left the Vatican today and drove to the villa of St. John Lateran, the "Mother Church" of the Roman Catholic world, thus resuming an Ascension Day custom abandoned in 1870 upon the fall of Rome. His Holiness was ordained a priest at St. John Lateran 54 years ago. The Pontiff became an ordinary Holy Year pilgrim, making one of the prescribed visits to Roman basilicas in order to gain plenary indulgence remitting punishment of sins. Visits to other basilicas, St. Paul and St. Mary Major, are scheduled for June 30 and August 15. The last pope to visit St. John Lateran on Ascension Day was Pope Pius IX, who went there four months before the troops of King Victor Emanuel II broke through the walls of Rome and deprived the popes of temporal power.

PINE BUSH YOUTH FATALLY HURT AS CAR RAN TREE

George Solomon Andrews, Jr., 22, of Pine Bush, died in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, at 5 a. m. Wednesday of a fractured skull, sustained five hours earlier when his Chevrolet coupe left the pavement near the Robin Scott farm on the Scotts Corners-Walden road and crashed into a tree on the left side of the highway.

The accident occurred about one mile from Walden. The car was badly wrecked. Miss Lillian Huenecke, riding in the car with Andrews, sustained lacerations on her face and body from shattered glass. She was treated by Dr. J. M. Bernhard of Walden and taken to her home in Pine Bush.

NEWBURGH BOARD O. K. GIVEN CUT IN SCHOOL PAY

The Newburgh News says: The Board of Education accepted proposals of the Newburgh Teachers' Association for refunds on salaries last evening, agreeing to a seven per cent rebate for teachers receiving up to $1,500 and eight per cent on salaries above that figure. The schedule applies to all employees of the school system, except those receiving less than $1,200. As a result, taxpayers of the city will be saved $36,056.82, permitting a tentative tax rate for the coming year of $8.85. This year the rate has been $7.99.

WOMEN'S HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF ST. JAMES K. CHURCH WILL MEET IN THE CHURCH PARLOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 26, BEGINNING AT 2:30. THE DEVOTIONS WILL BE CONDUCTED BY J. J. DEAN. THERE WILL ALSO BE A MUSICAL IN CHARGE OF MRS. CLYDE WOODWARD. HOSTESSES WILL BE MRS. E. A. FREER AND MRS. FREDERICK SAWYER.

Order Probe Into Capital Gains And Loss Provisions

Washington, May 25 (AP)—An investigation was ordered by the House Ways and Means Committee today into the capital gains and loss provisions of the income tax laws with the expressed view to correcting in the public works-industrial control bill the condition which permitted J. P. Morgan and Company to avoid payment of income taxes in the last two years.

The decision to place an amendment into the tax provisions of the 787 administration bill was reached shortly before the House met to begin debate on the measure.

Chairman Doughton appointed a subcommittee consisting of Representative Hagon (D., Ark.), Vinson (D., Ky.) and Treadway (R., Mass.) to conduct the investigation and to draft an amendment for insertion into the bill in the house tomorrow. Hagon said "immediate steps will be taken to prevent the recurrence of such conditions which permitted the Morgan partners to avoid the payment of income taxes."

$300 Verdict In Arace Suit

Pasquale Arace, as administrator of Angelina Arace, was awarded a verdict for $300 in supreme court today and Mary Arace was awarded $250 for injuries which she sustained on July 16, last, in a motor car accident near West Park.

Angelina Arace was killed when an automobile driven by Hillis Sanford, and owned by Clifford T. Sanford, overturned on route 9-W just south of the Esopus-Lloyd town line. Mary Arace received injuries. As a result of the accident three persons were killed. The car was being operated by Hillis Sanford who was returning home to New Jersey with Oscar Zimmermann, a companion. In Kingston three girls, Mary Arace, Angelina Arace and Miss Tourist of Port Ewen had been invited to ride to Highland in the Ford coupe of defendant. Near West Park the car was in collision with a car operated by John Rotermund and the driver lost control and collided with a tree and a stone fence and the Ford overturned. Miss Tourist and Miss Arace were fatally injured and Zimmermann died later at the hospital. Only the driver, Hillis Sanford, and Mary Arace survived the crash. Last March a verdict was awarded in the action brought by the administrator of Miss Tourist.

William H. Grogan and A. J. Cook appeared for Mary Arace and P. W. Brooks appeared for defendant, Sanford, and H. H. Fleming appeared for the defendant Rotermund. The complaint against Rotermund was dismissed.

Mooney Acquitted in Second Indictment

San Francisco, May 25 (AP)—Once convicted, once acquitted, Tom Mooney peeled potatoes in San Quentin prison today while his defenders sought to snatch advantage from a jury verdict labeled in advance by the court an empty victory. Another plea for a pardon to Governor James Rolph, Jr., of California and an appeal to the supreme court of the United States were proposed steps announced by the Mooney molders defense committee.

"Perhaps, we may even go higher than that—to the President himself," Mooney declared at San Quentin to which he was hurried immediately after the verdict of acquittal as directed by the court, was returned here yesterday. The life term convict, who almost 17 years ago heard himself condemned to death by another jury, declared:

"The verdict will bring me liberty in the not far distant future. His acquittal, without a line of testimony being offered, added another chapter to the long fight he has waged—since the death sentence was committed to life in prison—for complete exoneration of the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day bombing.

Frank Waters, Jr., Injured by Horse

Frank Waters, Jr., is confined to his home, 60 Highland avenue, as the result of being thrown from a horse while attending the horse auction on Central Broadway on Tuesday. There was a saddle horse there and Mr. Waters was asked to try the animal. As he got into the saddle the horse suddenly reared up on its hind legs and toppled over on its ground with Waters underneath. Mr. Waters was taken to the office of Dr. E. F. Sibler where it was found that while no bones were broken he was badly bruised and shaken.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, May 25 (AP)—Treasury receipts for May 23 were $4,022,597.50; expenditures $10,073,278.68; balance $273,598,119.96. Customs duties for 23 days of May were $15,856,448.25.

Gang Guns Roar On Broadway, 2 Women Dropped In the Street

Two Innocent Women Struck Down in Street From Slugs of Gangland's Shotgun—One May Die, Man Slightly Hurt.

New York, May 25 (AP)—Gangsters struck down two innocent women today in a skirmish that threw Broadway into a shrieking panic.

The women, one of whom may die, were dropped in the street by slugs from automatic shotguns when two carloads of hoodlums, racing south toward the white lights area, poured a fusillade into a third automobile. The target car, spitting gunfire, careened around a corner and crashed into an iron fence, two men, trailing blood, were seen to tumble from it and limp away. The shattered car, its tonneau ripped and blood-stained, was registered in the name of Edward Rosen, but at a Bronx house given as his address he was not known.

Sadie Fortine, who is 45 years old, was walking in Broadway near 51st street when a slug struck her in the back. At Knickerbocker Hospital, doctors found her condition to be critical. Irene Savage, 24, dropped with a bullet wound in her shoulder. Walter O'Donnell of 193 Maple street, Hornell, N. Y., had stopped to look at some shoes in a display window when the running battle roared by. A slug grazed his head, knocking him down, but he was not seriously hurt.

1933 World's Fair Opens on Saturday

Millions of Dollars in Buildings and Exhibits Will Feature Displays—182 Miles of Exhibits to See Fair.

Chicago, May 25 (AP)—When the 1933 World's Fair portals swing open Saturday to the public it will be like the unveiling of a master artist's painting depicting his conception of past, present and infinity. Even the creators of this exposition of the flight of a century of progress are unable to grasp what they have done. The World's Fair is as near a model of infinity—unlimited, boundless something—as man's hands have ever molded.

The makers of this fantastic panorama never have said this World's Fair would be the biggest thing ever. But here are a few figures: $26,000,000 has been poured into the multi-colored rectangularity which is called buildings. $6,000,000 worth of exhibits have been carted from all over the world into the three and a half mile long enclosure. 1,500 workmen of late have been laboring daily on the construction and are now, two days before opening, performing the final priming.

55 separate and distinct exhibition buildings have been erected. 32 miles of exhibit must be traversed if the visitor expects to glance at the fair. 50,000,000 persons is the conservative estimate of officials of those who will witness the exposition. From atop the $1,200,000 skyride, 623 feet or 64 stories into the air, all this is dwarfed into a dash of color along the sandy shores of Lake Michigan from the loop south nearly to the site of the World's Fair of 40 years ago.

On the ground, however, the oddity and unusualness of the architecture, color and arrangement takes form and the visitor is lost in a web of a thousand things to see.

JUDGE DORE SETS ASIDE BASEBALL ACCIDENT VERDICT

Justice Edward S. Dore, in supreme court, has set aside the verdict of $8,750 awarded to David Frieze of 2020 Walton avenue, the Bronx, in his suit for $250,000 against the Waldemere Hotel, Livingston Manor. Frieze sued for injuries sustained when he fell while playing ball on the hotel's diamond, August 21, 1931. He claimed to have suffered a fractured leg when he stumbled on a hidden rock on the baseline between third base and the home plate. Justice Dore held that a participant in a baseball game runs an obvious risk which should be considered.

AMERICAN DROWNED WHEN ITALIAN SEAPLANE UPSET

Mariagnane, France, May 25 (AP)—An American whose name was given variously as Makay or Maccay was trapped and drowned in the cabin of an Italian seaplane which upset and sank on Lake Berre today.

The accident occurred as the seaplane was taking off for Genoa. The radio operator of the craft also died an hour after the accident. The two pilots, the mechanic and a Spanish passenger named Llanza were rescued from the water having sustained only minor injuries. Efforts are being made to raise the seaplane and recover the body of the American.

Gregg to Run The Spa

Samuel Gregg, who has been superintendent of the Shillkill Farm, Inc., has resigned his position with that concern to take over the management of the former Leavitt Inn on the Ashokan boulevard, which has been renamed The Spa.

One-Third Payment Of Borden Will Funds Ordered by Kaufman

Surrogate Allows Executors to Pay One-Third of Amount of Legacies, Totalling About $267,000—Seven-ty Interested in Estate.

Surrogate George F. Kaufman, at a hearing held Wednesday at the court house, in the matter of payment of legacies under the will of the late Marion Borden, directed the executors to pay each of the various legatees one-third of the amount of their legacy, the total to be paid at this time amounting to approximately $267,000.

There are some 70 persons interested in the estate and general legacies under the will total about $804,000. The Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund is the residuary legatee.

At the former hearing, held at the court house on March 9, Surrogate Kaufman refused to hasten the matter of distribution, but directed the executors to file an intermediate accounting and adjourned the proceedings to May 23, at which time they were adjourned one day to May 24. Since the March 9 hearing the estate has gained in value some $400,000 as a result of the rise in security values, and the executors reported Wednesday that they had on hand in cash about $486,000. Since the last hearing the executors have sold about 15,000 shares of Borden stock at an average price of around 33 1/2, a large advance over what it was worth in March, but still far below its value at the time of Miss Borden's death, it having been inventoried at that time at about $70 a share.

In addition to other securities the executors still have on hand about 15,000 shares of Borden stock. Some of the attorneys urged the surrogate to direct the executors to dispose of the holdings, but he refused to take such action. At the same time he refused to direct the executors to hold the stock, as desired by the attorneys for the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund, which as residuary legatee would be a heavy loser by the disposal of the stock at a price so far below its inventory value.

The surrogate adjourned the proceedings to June 28.

MORGAN QUESTIONING STIRS INTEREST IN BRITISH PRESS

London, May 25 (AP)—The questioning of J. P. Morgan in the Washington investigation stirred great interest today in the British press, rivaling the attention given the Geneva disarmament crisis. Whether Mr. Morgan referred to his personal income tax return in testifying that he had paid his income tax in London, or whether he meant the Morgan Company returns, was not clear in reports received here.

An income tax authority said that individual returns under the British law take no account of either profits or losses in such transactions as stock exchange deals. Income tax returns are confidential and there are no means of knowing here how much income tax Mr. Morgan has paid in England.

BAKER SAYS HE NEVER MADE MONEY ON THE STOCK

Cleveland, May 25 (AP)—Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, whose name appeared on J. P. Morgan & Company's "selected list" as produced in the Senate hearing, said "the only preference granted by the Morgan Company was sale of the stock at no profit to themselves." Baker was listed as the purchaser of 2,000 shares of Allegheny Corporation stock from the Morgan Company at a price below the market. He said he was counsel for the Van Sweringen interests at the time the Allegheny Corporation was formed and considered the stock a good investment.

"I still have part of what I bought," he said, "I never made money on it. I am very sorry to say."

Rabbi Bloom to Report On the Jewish Congress

Services will be held at Temple Emanuel Friday evening, May 26, at 7:30. The discourse will be devoted to a report and an evaluation of the work accomplished at the Washington emergency sessions of the American Jewish Congress. Rabbi Bloom was the delegate from Kingston and has some very important data to communicate. The American Jewish Congress sessions are of interest to every Jew in the community. Its deliberations with reference to the condition of world Jewry and more particularly German Jewry are of tantamount importance. The public is invited to be present. After the services Rabbi Bloom will be glad to answer questions on the recent activities of the congress.

The Class in Jewish Life and Culture will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Social Hall of the Temple. Everybody is welcome. Services for Shabbath (the Feast of Weeks) will be held in Temple Emanuel on Tuesday evening, May 30, at 7:30. Rabbi Bloom will preach on the subject "The Legacy of Torah." The public is invited.

Roosevelt Will Take No Chance of Senate Rejecting Peace Plan

If Satisfactory Agreement Is Reached Declaration Will Be Signed Only By U. S. and Thus Not Requiring Senate Ratification.

Washington, May 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt intends to make his new peace policy effective without chancing rejection by the senate, traditional defender of American isolation.

If a satisfactory arms reduction agreement is reached at Geneva, the Roosevelt doctrine of non-interference with cooperative efforts to enforce peace will be summed up in a declaration signed only by the United States, and thus not requiring senate ratification.

This was made clear through the amplification by Norman H. Davis, Roosevelt ambassador at large, of the American position before the delegates at Geneva, which included one other statement considered of highest importance here.

After an "aggressor nation" has been satisfactorily identified, Mr. Davis said, American non-interference with the efforts of consulting nations to maintain peace will go to the extent of refusing protection of American citizens engaging in activities tending to defend those efforts. To the senate will go the arms reduction treaty, when and if it is signed. Two-thirds of the senate must approve to make it effective. But the peace policy will not be included.

Passengers Sue Mr. and Mrs. Scott

At the opening of Supreme Court this morning three negligence actions were taken up for trial. They grew out of an automobile accident near Coxsackie on August 14 last when a car owned by Margaret Scott and driven by her husband, Edward Scott, overturned, injuring the defendants and three men who were in the rear seat and who are the plaintiffs in the present actions.

The actions are brought by William Lake and Thomas J. Aiken of Kingston and Frank J. Carroll of Port Ewen against Mr. and Mrs. Scott. Flanagan & Kaercher appear for Mr. Lake and Brinnier & Elsworth for the other two plaintiffs. David Sugerman appears for the defendants.

The actions are for personal injuries, Lake and Carroll claiming permanent injuries. Plaintiffs allege that on August 14 they were employed on a boat which was tied up at Albany or nearby and that they accepted an invitation to ride to Kingston with Mr. and Mrs. Scott in their Ford car. Near Coxsackie they allege that Mr. Scott who was driving attempted to pass a couple of cars and a large bus and that in order to avoid a collision with an oncoming car bearing a Pennsylvania license he lost control of his car and the car overturned. All five people were injured. Aiken suffered injuries to his head and knee and suffered a crushed and broken shoulder. A severe cut on his chest and other injuries which thus far have confined him to hospitals for about 100 days. Carroll suffered fractured thigh and other injuries which caused him to be some two months in a hospital. Mr. Scott suffered a fractured skull and Mrs. Scott was also injured.

The defendants deny the fact that there was an excessive speed involved in the accident and claim that another car which was going in the same direction as the Scott car forced Mr. Scott to lose control of the car and that this was the cause of the accident. He denied any negligence on his part.

Judge Salk announced that tomorrow would be the last day of court until June 5 when he will resume the term after a week's recess. Jurors not engaged on the case, now on trial were excused until 2 o'clock this afternoon when a jury will be selected in another action. The case on trial now is expected to be concluded today.

BUS TERMINAL RESTAURANT WILL OPEN ON SATURDAY

The Short Line Bus Terminal Restaurant in the Low building at 721 Broadway will be opened for business on or about Saturday, May 27. George Orsek, of Orsek Boys, Southfields, N. Y., will be the manager of the restaurant which is located in the terminal building of the Short Line or Adirondack Stages. A modern restaurant and luncheonette has been fitted out in the building where regular meals and a la carte service will be offered the public. The Short Line Restaurant will specialize in regular breakfasts, lunch and dinner with dining room service and also a fountain lunch. One of the features of the new restaurant will be the sodas served at the fountain.

CENTRAL BUSINESS MEN MEET AND DINE TONIGHT

The Central Business Association will hold a dinner and spring meeting this evening at the Hotel Eichler on Railroad avenue. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Harry B. Walker is chairman of the dinner committee, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance this evening.

20 Years To Life Is Sentence Imposed On Michael Conner

Conner, Convicted Last Saturday by Jury of Murder in Second Degree in Death of Uriah Quick, Sentenced This Afternoon by Judge Frederick G. Traver—Baessler the Other Convicted Man, Eliminated By Suicide.

Michael Conner, convicted last Saturday of murder, second degree, for the killing of Uriah Quick at his home in Leibhardt on January 22, last, was sentenced to a term of 20 years to life in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora by County Judge Frederick G. Traver in county court this afternoon.

Conner with Anton Baessler was found guilty of the crime of murder, second degree, after a trial which lasted some five weeks in county court before Judge Traver. Both had been charged with murder, first degree, but the jury returned a verdict in the lesser degree. Mary Fish, also implicated in the act is now awaiting trial on a second degree charge. She was Quick's housekeeper.

When the verdict was returned late Saturday evening after the jury had deliberated for about six hours Judge Traver announced that sentence in both cases would be imposed this afternoon.

Monday morning Anton Baessler eliminated himself from the matter by committing suicide by hanging in his cell in the county jail. Thus Conner was the only one of the pair to face the court this afternoon for sentence.

Conner has taken his conviction in a calm manner. Roger H. Loughran, counsel for Conner, appeared on behalf of his client when court convened.

Wednesday night Conner's sisters and other relatives arrived in town and visited him and conferred with his counsel. Conner is a native of Carbondale, Pa., and for some time worked in and about southern Ulster. At times he has resided in Stamford and during a portion of his residence in Ulster county worked in and about Lake Minnewaska and Kerhonkson.

At the time of the death of Uriah Quick, Conner was in the employ of Anton Baessler, who conducted a restaurant in the village of Kerhonkson. Conner is a man 65 years old.

MISSING CADET FOUND IN FAR CORNER OF RESERVATION

West Point, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—John S. Conner of Medford, Ore., honor cadet who disappeared from the United States Military Academy Sunday night, was in the reservation hospital today, recovering from exposure, lack of food and loss of sleep.

He was found wandering along a road in a far corner of the reservation late yesterday, so worn from his days and nights in the woods that authorities forebore to question him until he had rested and been given medical care.

KENNEDY WENT FOR RIDE, MADE TOO MANY STOPS

Robert Kennedy, 56, of Montclair, N. J., went for a ride with some friends on Wednesday and made too many stops along the way with the result that he was picked up for public intoxication on Railroad avenue on Wednesday evening. When arrested it was found he had injured his head in a fall and he was removed to the Kingston Hospital for treatment and later to the county jail. This morning Judge Culliton fined Kennedy $5.

STOLEN CASH REGISTER FOUND IN RONDOUT CREEK

Wednesday afternoon Sergeant Lockhart of the State Troopers turned over to the police department a cash register that had been recovered from the Rondout creek at Rosendale. It was found that it was the same register that had been stolen on December 16 last from the rooms of the Polish American Club on Delaware avenue. It was later turned over to a member of the club.

Small Boy Is Fatally Hurt In Auto Mishap

The two year old son of Roy Van Gasbeek of Rochester Center, about three miles from Kerhonkson, was killed about 10:30 this morning when he was run over by a truck which his father was backing out of the garage. The little fellow was taken to the office of Dr. Holloway at Kerhonkson, but died before reaching there. Death was due to a fractured skull. The body was taken charge of by Coroner H. B. Humiston.

Guadagnola Inquest

An inquest will be held before Coroner W. N. Conner to inquire into the circumstances and facts surrounding the death of little Louis Guadagnola, who was fatally injured last Sunday at Washington avenue and North Front street when he was injured by a car operated by Reuben Lewis of Green street, Kingston. District Attorney Cleon R. Murray has not as yet set a definite date for the inquiry.

State Votes 8 to 1 for Repeal of Dry Law

Albany, N. Y., May 25 (AP).—The rising tide of wet sentiment in New York state swept 14 upstate rural counties from the list which voted dry in 1927 into the repeal column by substantial majorities, late returns on Tuesday's election showed today.

With only 43 districts missing out of the 5,337 the vote today was: For repeal, 1,891,823; against repeal, 229,561.
Only six of the 20 counties voting against modification five years ago voted against repeal. They were Tioga, Delaware, Schuyler, Allegany, Yates and Schoharie.
The state voted 8 to 1 for repeal Tuesday as against the 3 to 1 vote for modification in 1927. In New York city Tuesday the vote was more than 40 to 1 for repeal.
Cortland county, which voted 3 to 1 against modification, reversed its position and voted approximately 3,500 to 2,500 in favor of repeal. The other counties that reversed their former dry stand were: Chenango, Genesee, Jefferson, Lewis, Livingston, Madison, Oneida, Orleans, Otsego, Schoharie, Tompkins, Warren and Wyoming.

eral laws. Man and Nature are partners in creation. The Patent Office tells the story. They thought half a century ago that everything had been invented. Now there are more patents, and applications for patents, than ever before.

A distinguished anthropologist at Johns Hopkins has come forward with the astonishing announcement that cradled babies are as healthy as cradled ones. He seems to be defending grandmothers who have been scorned for the old-fashioned way they brought up their children and rebuked for trying some of the same methods on their grandchildren. Their grown-up daughters and sons have relegated the cradle and even the rocking chair to the same chamber of horrors as the communal tin drinking cup. This unexpected scientific support for cradles may cause a lot of argument, but it will hardly change domestic procedure. Perhaps the cradle did baby no harm, but it certainly was a less convenient place of furniture than the neat crib which gives him room to creep about when he's not sleeping. The modern crib, too, has no projecting rockers on which to stub the parental toe. It is pleasant to have the cradle vindicated for sentiment's sake, but that is about all the anthropologist has accomplished.

LIFE FOR THE DIABETIC

"Only intelligent people live for years with diabetes."

These are the words of Dr. Elliot P. Joslin, Boston, America's foremost diabetes specialist.

Your family physician will agree with this statement from Dr. Joslin, because the proper diet and the proper use of insulin will preserve life in the great majority of cases. Practically every physician has in his care one or more cases, and finds that it is the "intelligent" patients, those who follow his directions carefully as to diet and the use of insulin that enjoy good health and are free from danger.

Dr. Joslin reminds us that the tendency to diabetes is inherited, just as is the tendency to overweight, and to a good appetite. This tendency to diabetes may appear earlier and earlier in the successive generations. If sugar is once found in the urine, it must be assumed that it is still present, until the contrary is proven. The big point is of course to have the patient follow the strict diet laid out by the physician. It may be a blessing in disguise sometimes to have the patient have to "pay up" for his carelessness when he sometimes eats more starches than he should or neglects to take his insulin.

Naturally a child has to be watched more carefully than an adult, because he doesn't understand the seriousness of his condition and is unable to look after himself. If a diabetic child is especially quiet and "good," with the palms and the forehead a bit sweaty, there is not enough sugar in his blood, and some sugar or candy should be given him immediately. Thus the physician must check the dosage of insulin frequently, as it often goes wrong—too much or too little.

It is unfortunate of course that the diabetic inherits the desire for so much food—rich and starchy—with little desire for exercise. This in most cases brings overweight, and overweight is a forerunner of diabetes.

It means sacrifice in eating, and sacrifice by having to take exercise if overweight is to be prevented. It means that the patient must follow the diet laid out by his physician because "only intelligent people live for years with diabetes."

WHO IS "FRANCIS"?

"WHAT do you—go on!"
"Don't interrupt me, please," said Lora crankily. "It's very simple. You see, when Tally came to consult me he'd just slipped, come wet street in traffic and got involved somehow with a taxi and flying glass. It wasn't serious, he told me, but his face was nearly bandaged. That was, of course, fully six months ago. And I've not seen him since."

"Where was that meeting?"
"In New York."

"Was he the same general build as this man?"

"Of course," said Lora impatiently. "Do you think I haven't tried every test? I'm willing to admit that he may have deliberately got himself up to give me no definite way of identifying him again. But whatever was the purpose, the fact remains that I can't tell whether this man is Francis Tally or not."

"But this man recognized you. Spoke first. Called you by name."

The score in Lora's gaze made itself felt though he was still in the shadow.

"Have you failed to consider a possible connection between the Lorchschleims and this man? Of their informing him carefully of everything they have managed to discover? In case—of course—he is actually not Francis Tally?"

"No—" I said slowly. "No—I've not failed to do that." Several things returned to me. Grethe's sudden activity after that period of curiously patient, cat-like waiting; the way she'd looked at the newcomer when he floundered; the way his eyes had sought hers there in the lounge—had it been for guidance?

Briefly I told Lora of the time-table Lorchschleim had tried to conceal; he too, he agreed, had noted the curious effect the man called Francis Tally gave of looking to Grethe for help.

"The thing to do," said Lora, "as I see it, is simply to sit tight until the Paris detectives come. They'll make an end to things in a hurry."

"But, Miss Tally—" I said.

"Well, advise her to hang on to her token, take no chances, and wait for the detectives. In the meantime—" He paused, and then continued: "I may as well tell you, Sundeau, that I think I know what the motive power is."

"You mean," I cried excitedly, forcing him for once to a definite statement, "the murderer?"

"Don't ask me any more now, Sundeau. And I must go. Tell Miss Tally what I've told you, will you?"

We walked together to the stairway. He went down, met Mrs. Byng and Sue on the landing, crossed the lounge and entered the lobby. At the desk Lora paused and spoke to Lovschleim. Yet—of course, that did not mean that Lovschleim was after all, the murderer.

I TURNED to meet Sue and Mrs. Byng.

"I suppose," Mrs. Byng was shouting, "that we must eat dinner in this den of perdition. But don't worry darling. She moved ahead of us in the narrow corridor, walking with a strange stiffness and lack of freedom brought on probably by her entangling garments."

Sue dropped back a little with me, and under the continued boom of Mrs. Byng's voice I asked to see Francis's letter again. "Envelope and all," I said. "As soon as possible."

She nodded. "I'll get it."

Mrs. Byng, still talking, stopped in her own room, closed the door, and I heard her lock it. I went into Sue's room with her and she handed me the square white envelope. I took it and moved under the light to look at the address more closely.

"That light is very dim," said Sue. "I'll turn on this one over the table."

She moved to the door; I heard it close and waited for the little click of the light switch. It did not come. I heard her light footsteps behind me, and the bottom dropped out of the world.

"Put up your hands," she said coldly and crisply.

I felt the cold pressure of a pistol against my neck.

"I mean it," she repeated in a hard voice I'd never heard before. "Put up your hands."

It was impossible to obey. In fact, and in spite of that ominous cold touch on my neck, I believe I was too numb with shock to lift my hands.

Then slowly I turned. The girl backed away so that she still held me in range of that small pistol. The girl was not Sue Tally—or re-ther she was not the girl I knew as Sue Tally.

For when I said slowly: "Who are you?" she replied: "I am Sue Tally. I've told you twice to get up your hands. This gun is loaded, and I'm a good shot."

I stood there looking at her. She was of the same general height and build as Sue, but lacked Sue's sweetness of voice and smile and delicacy of proportion. She was fair, too, and wore her hair like Sue's. She was even dressed in a black velvet coat, like Sue's. But she did not resemble Sue in the least. A general written description of height, weight, and coloring might have applied to them both, but they were not at all alike.

Then a horrified question crashed upon me. Where was Sue? What had happened? Where had she gone?

"You don't want to shoot me," I said. "It won't do you any good. There are too many gentlemen in the place for you to escape."

"They are drinkin' in the kitchen. Paul likes having them there."

She spoke a little contemptuously, but her hard eyes did not waver from mine. "I am Sue Tally," she reiterated, "and I want the paper you took from the priest's room a short time ago. Don't deny it, for I saw you. That paper belongs to me."

"So you are Sue Tally," I said thoughtfully. "I had suspected your presence for some time. Can't we sit down and talk this over more amicably?"

She did not relax her hold or the pistol and eyed me suspiciously. I went on:

"Where have they been keeping you all this time? Hasn't it grown a little tiresome, dodging the police, hiding here and there?"

She bit her lip. I thought suddenly that there was something at the same time shrewd and stupid about her face.

She said: "It was easy enough. All but those nights in the storeroom. Come, give me the paper."

So it was she in the storeroom; I had not expected that, even though I had guessed that she was about somewhere, waiting to carry out her role in the conspiracy.

"In the storeroom," I repeated sympathetically. "You poor girl. It must have been most uncomfortable. The smoke from your cigarettes drifted up to me one night."

"Oh, it wasn't difficult to stay out of people's way. Anyway, at a distance I look rather like—this other girl. I had this coat made like hers on purpose. Of course, I've not been in the hotel all the time. I've been staying at Paul's—the cook's house."

"Oh, so you've been staying at Paul's?" I thought the girl had been bored and dull; she was probably not averse to talking to someone. Her hand did not waver with the pistol, but she was looking rather approvingly at me. "The Lorchschleims haven't been treating you very well, have they?"

It was a lucky thing to say. "No," she flashed. "They forget how important I am to them—"

THE SOLDANELLA ALPINA, AN ALPINE FLOWER, DRILLS ITS WAY THROUGH SOLID ICE!

CROSS SECTION OF AN OAK TREE CUT AT PRIOR LAKE, MINN. . .

5-25-33

RAIN FALLS INSIDE THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT WHEN THE SKY IS CLEAR OUTSIDE . . .

WARNING & WARNING A LAW FIRM (Man and wife) in Franklinville, N.Y.

Equipped with ice drilling apparatus, the blue Soldanelle alpine mountain flower found in the Swiss Alps, forces its way through solid ice to bloom in the early spring. The flower, when autumn comes, grows a thick leaves that lay close against the ground. In these leaves is stored starch and protoplasm to serve as fuel for the following spring.

In early spring, with the first thaw, water causes the plant which is still buried underneath the ice, to begin growing. The fuel supply in the heavy leaves is drawn upon to convert into heat, which is radiated from the tip of the plant to melt the ice. The melted ice furnishes more water, which in turn causes additional growth. This continues until the flower penetrates the ice. They are fertilized by bees, and burst to bloom in thick beds in early spring.

The silver dollar contains 371.25 grains of silver—412½ grains of 900 fine silver. To equal $1 or 371.25 grains of pure silver, the price must be $1.25 an ounce. Only once has this price been equalled on the market, and this in 1920 when, for a short time in January, the price of silver went to $1.33 an ounce. At that price there was more than $1 worth of silver in a silver dollar.

Condensation caused when moisture laden air inside the Washington Monument is cooled, causes miniature "rains" to fall inside the monument. This occurs generally a day or so after a rain outside, and often when the weather outside is fair and the sky clear.

ALLABEN.
Allaben, May 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ford, Arlene and Arthur Ford of Saratoga Springs were entertained at dinner on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garritty.

George Maben, proprietor of "The Waffle Shop," has returned home from spending a week in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Charles Spanier of Long Island City is spending two weeks vacation with Mrs. George Ennist of Broadstreet Hollow.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Winnie were dinner guests of relatives in Big Indian on Sunday.

Mrs. Anton Otto Fischer of Bushnellville and Mrs. Joseph Garritty were entertained by Miss Esther Riskey at her home on Monday afternoon.

Charles Osborne is able to attend school again after spending two weeks at home with the chickenpox. The Coogans entertained several guests at their summer residence in Broadstreet Hollow over the week-end.

Miss Mabel Van Keuren of Arena called on her cousin, Albert Colwell, on Saturday afternoon.

Robert Webster, Jr., of "The Pines Colony," has returned home after a recent visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster, Sr., of New Haven, Conn.

"The Log Cabin" has opened for the summer season under the management of Harry Linton and George Papan.

There were several fishermen, as well as tourists, in town over the week-end. The Allaben Hotel was filled to its capacity and the Hotel Margaret also had a number of week-end guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Terry called on Mrs. Joseph Garritty on Friday evening.

Several people attended the play, "Adventures of Grandpa," given by the Senior Class of Fleischmanns Hall on Saturday evening. It was certainly a great success and enjoyed by all who attended.

The Misses Anna and Esther Riskey, Mrs. Edward G. West and Mrs. Tremaine Hinkley were in Kingston Saturday.

Mrs. L. Newell and daughter were dinner guests of Mrs. Tremaine Hinkley Tuesday.

The Portal as usual was a very exciting Mecca for tourists and fishermen over the week-end. One particular fisherman was fishing from the Portal bridge and landed a large trout in the middle of the bridge, thereby holding up the traffic for several minutes and causing a great deal of excitement. Several species of fish are caught at this point of the Esopus as the waters of the Glibson dam empty there. At one hour Sunday afternoon 22 fishermen were trying their luck along the banks and the majority of them seemed rather proud of their catches.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Buely were business callers in Kingston on Saturday.

Miss Luella Garritty was in New York city on Sunday.

Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Leonia Thompson and daughter, Babette, are spending the summer months at their estate in Peck Hollow after spending the winter months on the Riviera.

Harry France of Pine Hill was a business caller in town on Tuesday. Mr. France is buying several saddles horses for his riding school.

The Rev. Mr. Jenkins of Walton is very busy making several improvements on his property here.

Miss Luella Garritty entertained several friends at a dinner and bridge at her home on Monday evening.

Mrs. Flora Van Keuren of Arena was a business caller here on Saturday.

Thomas Meredith is cultivating the property he bought of Iran Meyers and expects to have a large vegetable garden.

The ladies of the Home Mission Class are holding a sock social in the M. E. Church hall on Thursday evening, May 25. Everyone is welcome.

ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW
We haven't learned anything yet. We haven't invented anything yet. Dr. William F. Ogburn, sociologist of the University of Chicago, who prepared the Hoover report on Social Trends, says "there are likely to be just as many important new inventions in the future as there have been in the past." If so, we shall have inventions as important and revolutionary as have been the wheel, the compass, explosives, the steam engine, the sewing machine, the dynamo, the modern steel furnace, the telephone, the vacuum tube. And this process will go on indefinitely while civilization lasts. Nature seems inexhaustible. Her laws work out in endless variety. The human mind likewise invents endlessly by taking advantage of nat-

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wood were Kingston shoppers on Tuesday.

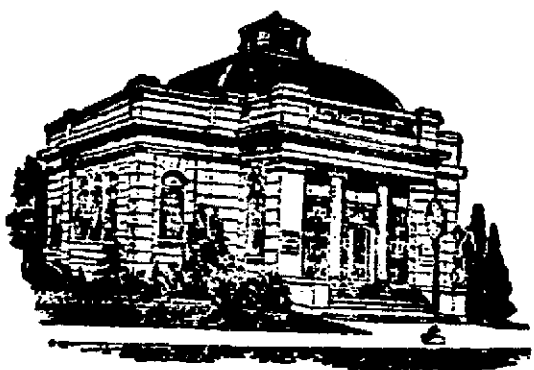

Frank Wakeham entertained a house party of guests from Nutter, N. J., Tuesday, and Brooklyn over the week-end.

Leonard Ford, superintendent of highways, was in Kingston Tuesday. The Home Mission Class will hold a sock social in the church hall on Thursday evening, May 25. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the class.

Anton Otto Fischer, well known on the Bushnellville road, gave a lecture and art exhibit at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, on Tuesday. Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kuris of the town of their little child, who died very suddenly Saturday night. Burial was in Olmstead on Monday afternoon.

Lights of NEW YORK

DeWolf Hopper, who recently reached the age of seventy-five years, in his 54 years on the stage has missed but two performances. He failed to appear for two consecutive days eight years ago. He might not have missed them, he explained, as he sat in his favorite chair at the Lambs club, but his physician thought he had pneumonia. He made his first stage appearance the night of November 4, 1878, as Talbot Champney in the Critteron Comedy company's production of "Our Boys." He was the backer of the company. His favorite part of the many he has played was Old Bill in "The Better Ole" in which he appeared during the war. His most successful play was the comic opera "Wang," in which he starred during the '90s. Four years ago, he played to the largest house in his career. He was the star in a musical spectacle, which caused 41,000 people to crowd into the Atlantic City auditorium.

Mr. Hopper, who has been married six times, divorced five, and who has recited "Casey at the Bat" from ocean to ocean, looks at the past with no regret and at the future with optimism. He holds it's been a great life and that he has a lot more of it left. The theater has been dealt some blows, and "the road" with its "one-night stands" is through, but the theater will continue to live. Two great blows have been smut and the modern school of "confidential acting." Smut, he holds, is worse than stupid. Purity is what is wanted by the theatergoer. The farther people are from home and mother, "the fine, beautiful things of life," the more they unconsciously hunger for such influences. As for the "confidential school of acting," he declared, "Acting is an art and not a spasm. You must be heard."

Naturally, Mr. Hopper has many memories of the past. One of the most vivid has to do with the point he made in regard to purity. He was in a road company of "Hazel Kirke" in 1894. The company stopped at Leadville, Colo., for a three-night stand. At that time Leadville was at the height of its career. A man's body lay on the gayest and busiest street for three hours after the actor saw it. The tallest building in town was the hotel, and the only brick structure, a gambling house known as "The Brick Exchange." After the Monday night performance, the leading citizens took the members of the "Hazel Kirke" company to "The Brick Exchange."

The trouper was served with a supper at which champagne flowed like water. The food was magnificent. As he ate, Hopper could hear the making of bets of such a size that they raised goose flesh. When he had finished, thinking he should do something to show gratitude, he tried to buy $10 worth of chips. The proprietor advised him against playing. Instead, he requested a song. Hopper, who didn't have "Casey at the Bat" then, tried to hold back. But there was such insistence that he consented.

The song he chose was "Cradle of the Deep." "Not a chip was turned," said the actor, pushing back his long hair, "and I had several encores. But it wasn't me. It was the grand old song, simple, full of sentiment. Even in that wicked environment, it got them. Mother, that's it; that's what the stage needs."

Along comes this yarn—new to me, at least—from Harold Titus: "Upstater is elected to the state legislature; much gratified and goes up and down Main street telling what he'll do when he gets to Washington. 'But, Jim,' sez somebody, 'you ain't goin' to Washington. You were elected to the legislature, not to congress.' 'Drat it,' says Jim, 'if I'd known that, I'd never've run.'"

George Price tells this story of Toccanini at his last New York concert. Having arrived late, he wanted to enter the auditorium through the public entrance. As he was passing through the milling crowd, an officious door man yelled after him, "Hey, you standing room only!" "That's just what I want," replied Toccanini, as he passed down the aisle with a grin.

It's Jack Denny who tells about a certain classical conductor who is slightly deaf. At a rehearsal, he wanted a particular passage played very softly. Time after time, he made the men repeat it, only to stop them and cry, "Softer." Finally the musicians, exasperated, at a signal from the fiddle player, went through all the motions but didn't make a sound. "That's fine!" shouted the maestro. "Now a trifle softer and it'll be just right."

High Schools Teach Art of Casting for Bass
Kansas City—Casting for the wily bass requires real skill and science. And since it properly can be classified a science, it is the duty of the schools to teach it.

On that theory, night classes have been organized at high schools here, where novices at angling may learn to flip and whirr their lines as experts. Thirty-seven men and eight women enrolled for the first lesson, which was given by O. E. Pitkin, a fishing expert, under the official sponsorship of A. J. Anderson, director of school physical education.

Talks to parents

Talking To Children
By ALICE JUDSON PEARLE

A great many persons who desire themselves fond of children, talk to them in the most absurd way.

Talking to a child of 2 they make the sort of noises that amuse and delight a baby of six months, but which cause a somewhat older child to regard the performing adult with a long perplexed stare. This the adult usually chooses to regard as shyness and redoubles her effort with the baby talk. No adult ever yet made friends with a child in this way.

With the children of kindergarten and school age there is a tendency to give loving or artificially sweetened answers to his perfectly sober and sensible remarks. This sort of thing makes the child keep his ideas to himself while he is torn between the desire to tell the things and making the response which he can see the adult expects. The child has no respect or liking for this sort of person, at best he is tolerantly polite with an eye to possible forthcoming treats.

Often the child whose natural conversation is met with what he soon sees is insincere twaddle develops a profound contempt for the grown-up who thinks he is making perfectly charming conversation with him.

Perhaps this accounts for the fact that many children refuse to have anything to do with certain relatives and friends of the family while they strike up warm friendships with the garage man or the laundress. These people, he appreciates, talk to him sensibly, taking for granted that he is sensible.

They don't think his questions are funny or cute or precocious and they answer him in a perfectly straight-forward way.

A Beach Dress Puts You In the Swim

New York—The lucky girl who expects to tell about on a beach this summer has the pleasant alternative of wearing either: pajamas or one of the new beach dresses. There are two schools in color, too, very bright and light colors if ever there was such a thing, and the darker, so-called town colors. It may be distinctive to choose black, but the beach scene is certainly pleasanter when bright and pastel shades are worn.

Among these there is now canteloupe and other melon shades, also raspberry. Blues, especially the darker blues, lead among the so-called street colors.

Silk is still the exception on the beach. Cotton and wool have acquired a ducklike quality that is admirably suited for beach attire. Then there is rubber for the girl who must have the very latest thing.

So many of the better-looking suits and beach ensembles are striped that it seems most appropriate to single out the striped ones for honorary mention. There is a very doubt but what you will see checks and plaids in and out of the water too, especially in gingham, but the heavier materials seem to take their cue from bright awnings, Basque linens and the like.

That skirts are being timidly offered is amusing. Of course they are brief and frisky looking, anything to offset the suggestion that they are being worn because of undue modesty. Skirts are as short as shorts, both indicate a desire on the part of refined women to get away from the perfectly plain swim suit, unless one really intends to spend more time in the water than on the beach.

The beach dress usually has an adjustable back, so that one may run oneself with or without the back. The frock is easily slipped on and off and as a coat.

CHECK ON BEACH WEAR

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

If you feel your liver and bile are sluggish, don't wonder a lot of ailments, such as indigestion, constipation, gas and other troubles, are caused by a sluggish liver. It is the liver that filters out the poisons from your blood and keeps you healthy. If it is sluggish, it does not do its job properly. You feel tired, listless, and your health is lost. You often break out in blotches. Your skin itches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

Society Notes

Folk-Notes

A very pretty wedding took place Sunday May 21 in St. Peter's Church, Staten Island, when Miss Marie Traynor, daughter of Mrs. Susanna Traynor, formerly of Kingston, became the bride of William Follock of Staten Island. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with duchess lace and a veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Nora Traynor, sister of the bride, who was gowned in pink georgette with hat to match and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by John Wido of New York City. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. On their return from a wedding trip spent in Washington, D. C. they will make their home at Staten Island where a newly furnished apartment awaits them.

Variety Shower

A variety shower was given Miss Helen Wolferting on May 15 in honor of her approaching marriage to Mildred Wendland, by Mrs. Albert Stuet and Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, at the latter's home, 76 Stephen street. The house was beautifully decorated with white crepe paper and flowers. At midnight a tasty luncheon was served, after which the guests departed wishing Miss Wolferting many happy years of wedded life. Don't get swell headed. The cheers that you are getting today may be jeers tomorrow.

Willie—Mrs. Kilmer, can we borrow your step ladder? Mrs. Kilmer—Yes, Willie, but what do you want with it?

Willie—Daddy fixed the rice boiler. Mrs. Kilmer—But why does he need the step ladder?

Willie—Well, you see, he fixed it so it wouldn't boil over. Mrs. Kilmer—But that's no reason why he should need the ladder.

Willie—Yes, he soldered the cover down, and he wants the ladder to scrape the rice off the ceiling.

John Brew and Alice Beers were recently married by the Rev. Still, according to a Nebraska daily.

Joe the Plodder says the meek may inherit the earth, but that's the only way they'll ever get it.

Customer—I don't like those shoes. The soles are too thick.

Salesman—Then I can assure you, madam, that the objection will gradually wear away.

Some of the older people can still remember the time when the farmer with the ambitious daughter was finally induced to trade the old sorrel mare for an organ.

Chief—You had yesterday off to go to your mother-in-law's funeral, and now I hear she is not dead. Clerk—Pardon me, I did not say she was dead. I merely said I would like to go to her funeral.

A local man received a "beauty hint" the other day. His gentle wife advised that unless he stopped paying attention to a platinum blonde she was oiling up the family revolver.

Folks are drifting back to the old-fashioned games. Some thought they would play a game of dominoes, and found to their surprise they didn't know how.

Young Son—Dad, is there any difference between a new fad and a new wrinkle?

Father—Certainly, my son. Young women have fads, older women have wrinkles.

A New Jersey man claims to have invented a perpetual motion machine, but requires $2,000 to start it. One can start almost anything these days with $2,000.

The girl reporter accepted the editor's invitation to dinner, and when asked how she enjoyed it, said: Reporter—Oh, fine, but I'll never go to dinner with an editor again.

Friend—Why not?

Reporter—Well, the dinner was fine, but he blue-penciled about half of my order.

"Maria" Not Boy's Name, Say Bohemian Officials. Should Christian names be censured?

This question has been raised by the authorities at Prague. They recently refused to allow a boy to be named Maria. This, they said, was "a girl's name in the eyes of the law, and the principal aim of Christian names is to indicate the sex."

If the authorities in England are encouraged to take a similar view, they will have some pretty problems to solve. For instance, are Clara, Evelyn, Hilary, Leslie, Marion and Sydney to be regarded as masculine or feminine? They have been given indiscriminately to both boys and girls.

In France, too, names such as Anne and Marie are frequently given to boys, though usually in association with other, more obviously masculine names.

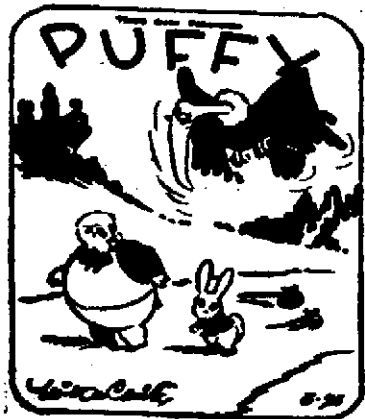

And the "auld alliance" between France and Scotland has been responsible for Anne appearing as a boy's name in the records of some historic Scottish families.—Boston Globe.

The Term "Freeman"

The expression was used to distinguish free persons from slaves or from indentured white servants or persons known as redemptioners. Indentured white servants were composed of criminals who were sent to this country in lieu of serving a prison sentence, or waifs sold by parents or kidnapped by exploiters and sold for transportation to the United States. Redemptioners were persons who sold their services for a term of years, usually five, in order to secure passage to this country. Most of these persons, after their release, became members of our great middle class, and many of them were among the early western settlers.

BIG HOLIDAY WEEK-END COMING—and Tire* Prices may never be so LOW again!

GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER
Supertwist Cord Tire

The world's standard of value—because it outlasts any other tire in the world. Now better in quality—better in safety—better in mileage than in all its distinguished history. Full oversize. Lifetime guaranteed. The greatest value ever offered at such prices as these:

4.40-21	$5.85	5.00-19	$7.00
4.50-21	6.50	5.25-18	8.50
4.75-19	7.00	5.50-18	9.50

GOODYEAR certainly makes it worth while for you to put money in tires now. Your dollars never bought tires to equal the quality, the safety, the mileage which Goodyear is today building in every tire wearing the Goodyear name—

And because Goodyear now concentrates on two main lines of tires—a real saving in costs is passed on to you.

Look at the present prices of the world's most popular tire, the Goodyear All-Weather—and the prices of the thrifty Goodyear Pathfinder—and you'll certainly agree, it's smart to buy Goodyears NOW—while prices are still down close to bottom, and your money buys more than it may ever buy again.

GOODYEAR PATHFINDER
Supertwist Cord Tire

Now built with full center traction for complete non-skid safety. 20% thicker tread for longer mileage. Stouter, longer-lasting body of Supertwist Cord. Full oversize. Lifetime guaranteed. Better than any Pathfinder Goodyear ever built—and look how little it costs today.

At The Theatres

Kingston: "Today We Live."
British youth caught in the maelstrom of the World War is the subject of this unusual talkie, with a splendid cast headed by Jena Crawford and Gary Cooper, and supported by the capable playing of Francis Toole and Robert Young. It's the story of three British people, a girl, her brother, and her lover. All are swept into the war when a rich American comes over to England and rents their ancestral home. The girl and the American fall in love, and numerous complications develop. There are some of the most thrilling war scenes ever filmed in this talkie, and the direction of Howard Hawks insures fast and abundant action. The work of Miss Crawford is exceptional, while Gary Cooper, Robert Young and Francis Toole all add new laurels to their picture popularity. Something to see.

Orpheum: "Down to Earth" and "The Penal Code." Will Rogers is the star of the first attraction, a story centering around the rooster depression. There is a lot of worth while comedy in this play, some good common sense, and some very capable acting by the large cast. "Penal Code" is another prison story that headlines Regis Toomey as the convict.

Broadway: "Evenings for Sale." Herbert Marshall, Sari Maritza, Charles Ruggles, Lucien Littlefield and Mary Boland are all together in this rhythmic talkie that is grand entertainment. Mary Boland as the millionaire American widow who goes to Vienna to see it as the romantic land of her dreams runs into all types of comedy and romance, while the aid of beautiful sets, perfect direction, and enjoyable music all lend charm to this production. Herbert Marshall is well cast in the role of a governed count and he scores another personal triumph, while Sari Maritza has been given her best part since coming to America. Light entertainment, worth seeing.

Tomorrow.
Kingston: Same.
Orpheum: "Tom of the Storm Country" and "Flaming Guns." Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, the screen's most lovable romantic team, are together for the last time in this sea story of a poor girl and a rich boy, who find happiness together after their full share of difficulties. "Flaming Guns" is also Tom Mix's last screen appearance in a western yarn that isn't quite up to the Mix standard, although there is plenty of action and excitement. Broadway: Same.

Here's a treat for you... a Mayonnaise with

FLAVOR

- Flavor that appeals to men, women and children alike
- Flavor that makes potato salad or cold slaw taste just right
- Flavor that brightens the taste of sea food and meats
- Flavor that takes the harsh "edge" from tart fruits and vegetables
- Flavor that combines deliciously with sandwich filling
- Flavor that gives Tartar sauce and Russian dressing new goodness

WE KNOW it's hard to find a ready-made mayonnaise that has a distinct and pleasing flavor. But we have dared to give Ivanhoe Mayonnaise that very distinction. It has a spiciness, mild and tasty, that appeals to men and women alike.

Our method of developing this pronounced flavor is almost the same as you use in your kitchen. We know how particular you are about ingredients, and how generously you use egg-yolks. So we select the finest seasonings and put an extra quantity of egg-yolks into Ivanhoe. Finally, by a unique method of beating, we blend all the flavors into a harmony of goodness, so creamy and smooth that you won't find its equal anywhere.

Ivanhoe comes sealed fresh in the original glass-top jar, so useful at preserving-time. Sold at good grocers in quarts and pints. Ivanhoe Foods Inc., Auburn, New York.

SHOKAN

Diversified Program
At Rotary Luncheon

Shokan, May 24.—Mrs. Edmund Geason, who has been at her summer home on Church Hill for the past two weeks, went to New York City Tuesday morning to spend a few days. Mrs. Geason expects to return to Shokan the latter part of the week.

Loren Boice of Kingston, a former Shokan boy, called on some of his old friends in the village recently. Paul James, well known lumberman, is getting out oak logs on the Winchell farm.

E. S. Morris, president of the Drake Remedy Company of Kingston, was a business caller in the hub of the reservoir section Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Herman Wendt of Long Island City has joined her son, Herman, at the Wendt bungalow on the state road.

Claude Rose, enterprising building contractor, is reshingling the roof of the William Winchell summer residence.

The supper to be held in the Reformed Church Hall by the Sunday School on Friday evening, May 26, will begin at 6:30. Following the supper a free entertainment will be given by members of the school.

On May 25, 1863, the death took place of Gilbert Satterlee, father of the late Henry Satterlee, whose 100-acre farm on the mountain road to Hoicerville is now the property of C. H. Foster of Englewood, N. J. Mr. Satterlee, senior, was a grandfather of Virgil and Russell Satterlee of Kingston.

Airplanes are seen flying over Shokan almost daily this spring. Many of the planes travel at such a great height that they can be barely distinguished with the naked eye. Were it not for a faint humming sound, folks would scarcely notice these mere specks in the sky.

Mrs. Ruth Swenson of Locust Valley is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Markle. A stock of cement has been laid in at the corner store, which has not handled this commodity during the past two years.

Mrs. C. G. Fuller of Brooklyn has arrived at the Fuller summer home, Mountain Laurel Lodge, on the north boulevard.

The dry weather of the past two weeks has retarded the grass growth considerably, especially on light stony soil. The brooks also are way down again, making poor sport for the trout fishermen.

George Phillips, popular grocery salesman of Kingston, was a business caller in the village Tuesday morning. Mr. Phillips is a brother-in-law of Ray and Miss Ada Cudney of the Ashokan mountain road.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Friedman on Sunday, May 14, returned from their honeymoon trip and are residing at the Friedman home on the north boulevard.

Miss Ann Corley of Jersey City is spending a week's vacation at the north boulevard camp of her grandmother, Mrs. Inez Dumont, of Catskill.

A local wedding of May 26, 1880, was that which united Alvah R. Elmendorf to Ida M. Winchell. The ceremony took place at the residence in Shokan of Azarias Winchell and the officiating minister was the Rev. R. L. Shurtler, pastor of the Shokan M. E. Church. The groom was a son of Cornelius Elmendorf, whose homestead is now known as the Andrew Krott place, and his bride was a well known young lady residing in the eastern part of Olive.

Mrs. C. A. Winchell, retiring chairman of the Shokan unit of the Home Bureau, attended the Advisory Council of the Bureau in the Clin-

Rotary enjoyed an unusual and diversified program in its meeting Wednesday noon in the Governor Clinton Hotel, when two speakers and amateur motion pictures served as the entertainment features of the program.

The motion pictures, taken during the Rotary Boys' Club outing to West Point on Saturday, May 20, were taken by Albert Kardt with a camera donated for the occasion by O'Reilly's stationery store. The pictures gave an interesting account of the trip that the Rotary Boys' Club took to the military academy. Approximately 40 boys, under the leadership of Harry Edson, Rotary boys' work chairman, enjoyed the trip, and the motion pictures showed the various features the group witnessed. The day's parade, a track meet and baseball were all included in the trip, with a supper being served on the reservation as an appropriate ending to the outing.

Following the pictures Willis G. Nash, conservator to the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company, was introduced as a guest speaker on the program. Mr. Nash spoke briefly on the affairs at the bank, and stated that the bank was doing all within its power to arrange its affairs in a manner satisfactory to the federal government.

WILLISTON ACADEMY TO OFFER NEW SCHOLARSHIPS

Announcement is made by Principal Archibald V. Galbraith that ten new scholarships are offered by the Trustees of Williston Academy, Easthampton, Mass., to students entering the school for the year 1933-34. These scholarships are to be awarded on the basis of high scholarship and excellent character and each will equal in value one-half the inclusive tuition charge for the year, i. e. from $350.00 to $525.00.

Character will be judged by recommendations and a personal interview, scholarship by previous school record and special tests covering both subject matter and general intelligence.

These scholarships are to supplement those long offered by the Academy and regularly awarded to students already enrolled in the Academy.

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to Williston Academy, Easthampton, Mass.

Ancient Republics
Probably the earliest republican governments were the Jewish commonwealth or republic under Moses and Joshua and their successors, and the various republics of Carthage and the Greek states. The dates of these are approximately: 1491 to 1095 B. C. for the Israelite commonwealth; 700 to 146 B. C. for the Grecian republic; 800 to 146 B. C. for Carthage.

ton Avenue M. E. Church in Kingston on Tuesday.

Sylvester Wells is making a number of improvements to the tennis courts at the community playgrounds on Church Hill.

Attendance at the local school continues small, due to the continuing measles epidemic. Only seven pupils were at school on Tuesday.

Proprietors of boarding houses farther up the line are beginning to pass through Shokan on their way to the mountains where they are getting ready for the summer season. The American House at Fleischmanns is one of the summer hotels whose owners are making early preparations for opening day.

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Again it appears President Roosevelt has made the politically minded in Washington blink their eyes at another maneuver—this time in regard to the proposal to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

This question, so important in the nominating and election campaigns last year, has received scant public attention from the White House since HERBERT PLUMMER.

And efforts have been made to have him say something, too. At his bi-weekly press conferences, several times he has been asked to comment.

Each time he has smilingly shunted the suggestion.

A Lure
Now he comes forward with his bill seeking industrial recovery which carries with it a tax increase. And he adds that provision should be made for the reduction or elimination of these new levies "when-ever the repeal of the eighteenth amendment... shall have been ratified and the repeal of the Volstead act effected."

Political observers here think no more subtle or astute approach could have been made to the question of repeal than this. He has thrown out a lure, they say, that will be hard to resist.

What's Next?
At 2:37 p.m. the President seems to have given new thought to the question, even if it is by implication. Reports in some quarters have it that he may go further while his industrial recovery bill is being considered by congress, urge the various states to quicken their efforts to set up the necessary machinery for disposal of the question. Others insist that he will wait until congress adjourns before further action.

Woolen Legs Back to State
Woolen legs provided injured workmen under the workmen's compensation laws become the property of the state of Oregon and will be reclaimed by the state at death, a law passed by the legislature provides.

Battles Teach Us
"We learn by experience," said Eli R. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "but no ancestor has succeeded in recording the experience clearly enough to make us seek progress by means of books instead of battles."

Simon P. Hollis, 79, of Cadiz, O., boasts 113 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

NATIONAL ULSTER COUNTY BANK &
TRUST COMPANY OF KINGSTON

KINGSTON, N. Y.

Notice is given of Special Meeting of Stockholders to be held at banking rooms on June 14th, 1933, at 3:30 P. M., for purpose of Amendment to Articles of Association and Election of Directors.

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF ULSTER, REGINA DEINHARDT, Plaintiff, against HENRIAN ZOLLNER and ANNA ZOLLNER, being same as mentioned in heretofore filed in the County of Ulster, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale granted in the above entitled action on the 12th day of April, 1933, and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on the 12th day of April, 1933, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, on the 25th day of May, 1933, at twelve o'clock, noon, the premises described in said judgment as follows:

on said Map, Foreclosed, thence Southwest along the Southeastly boundary of Lot No. 8 as laid down on said Map aforesaid 91.7 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Being the same premises described in a deed from Herbert J. Glass and Elsie R. Glass, his wife, to Regina Deinhardt, by deed dated July 24, 1925, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 12th day of July, 1925, in Book No. 518 of Deeds, at page 240.

Also all that tract or parcel of land, situate in the Town of Hurley, County of Ulster and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in parcel No. 11, thence along the road, said Parcel No. 11, thence running along the northernly boundary of Parcel No. 13, on a course of north 55° 40' west for a distance of 154.20 feet, to the bounds of Parcel No. 2; thence along the bounds of Parcel No. 2, on a course of north 47° 07' east for a distance of 105.20 feet to the point or place of beginning.

The above premises on a map of the lands of Bruno Deize, now on file in the Ulster County Clerk's Office as Map No. 544, in which reference is hereby made, and the said above described parcel of land being Parcel No. Twelve on said map, deed from George F. Kaufman, Referee, to Regina Deinhardt, by deed dated December 5th, 1927, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 10th day of December, 1927 in Book No. 525 of Deeds, at page 224.

Dated, April 12, 1933.

WEST SHOKAN

WEST SHOKAN, May 24—Beginning Saturday evening, May 27, a season of weekly dances will begin at Colonge Hall. Music will be furnished by Frank Constable and his Royal Delawares.

The Garden Seed Club members voice their keen appreciation to Mrs. West's genial husband for his kindness in erecting a protecting fence about their artistic flower and vegetable garden plot on the school grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Bell of Main street were entertained Sunday evening at dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Every at Traver Hollow.

There was a very pleasing attendance at the local church service on Sunday afternoon. Among out of town visitors present were a group of Walden young people. The pastor, the Rev. C. F. Ahrens, chose as a scripture text the 12th chapter of St. Mark.

The Garden Seed Club held an outdoor meeting after school Friday with the president, Miss Cornelia Davis, presiding. The report of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. The following motions were adopted: "That there should be no further meetings of the club until after reopening of the fall term," a wire screen should be placed about the club garden to keep prying animals out, "that the money taken in by the club be divided among the members for some enjoyable purpose on the day of the school picnic," "that members delinquent in their dues pay same to the treasurer as soon as possible." The meeting was delightful and refreshments enjoyed in the open consisted of cake, pickles, punch, also ice cream, which was provided by the kindly teacher, Mrs. West.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin, prominent members of the Woodstock artist colony, have leased the property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tomlin as a permanent residence.

On Thursday evening, June 1, Olive Rebeckah Lodge, No. 470, will hold its third birthday anniversary. The past noble grand of the lodge will be guests of honor. Olive lodge also extends a most cordial invitation to the members of the district to take part in the celebration. An appropriate variety program of entertainment is being prepared for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Burgher and son, Robert, were entertained Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wodner and family at Hickory Hill.

The Hon. Joseph Snyder of Brooklyn with his mother, Mrs. Ida Snyder, spent an enjoyable week-end with members of the family group at Traver Hollow Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Knorpp of Fairbush, Brooklyn, with Mrs. Knorpp's brother, Garrett Knorpp, returned to their home on Wednesday after an enjoyable ten days' vacation stay at their summer residence on Main street.

William V. Colonge has several workmen engaged in making improvements of a general nature to his recently acquired Winchell property on Main street. Several of the cottages have already been rented. A New York city family has taken possession of the two family houses at the front of the property where the late Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Winchell formerly resided.

Mrs. Elwyn Davis and daughter, Cornelia, of West Shokan Heights, called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Knorpp Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross W. Lynn of New York city returned Tuesday after a sojourn of several days over the week-end at their Traver Hollow country estate.

Trooper Raymond Dunn of Phoenix spent Sunday evening with friends at West Shokan Heights.

Leonard Colonge, well known Shokan storekeeper and gas service station proprietor, has taken on the Park & Pollard feed agency, which was conducted on a large scale for several years by Charles Greene of Shokan. Mr. Colonge is making very noticeable improvements to his property and adding space to carry on his new line, which is shipped in carload lots. A number of local workmen are being given employment.

The monthly business meeting of the Olive town board will be held Friday evening at either Olive Bridge hall or the town clerk's office.

Zadoc Barringer, an esteemed resident of Saranacville, who is now in his 83rd year, is not in his usual good health at present. During the past week Mr. Barringer has been visiting with his daughter, Mrs. Julia Van Kleeck, of Kingston.

The Rev. Henry Mullien, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Atlantic City, N. J., recently motored up to his "Bear Trap Spring Camp" on the Saranacville road for the first trip of the season. The Rev. Mr. Mullien's daughter, who died some years ago, used to spend her summer vacations with her friend, Warren, at West Shokan Heights, and with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eckert.

Richard C. H. Thompson of Shelton Hill is not much improved from his illness but his brother, John, considered as the worst off of the two, is quite some better. The brothers are both well along in their eighties.

The local school closed Monday for the remainder of the week on account of being ahead of the school term schedule. By closing this week school may continue right up to the June examinations. This year the town districts spelling contest will be held in the West Shokan school. The two local champions are Jane Snyder and Cornelia Davis.

Many friends and former neighbors in Olive sympathies most keenly with Henry Crispell of Stone Ridge in his sad bereavement caused by the untimely and sudden death of his wife which occurred on Wednesday night of last week. The funeral of Mrs. Crispell was held Saturday afternoon at the Stone Ridge Methodist church.

A joint I. O. O. F. memorial service will be held by Shokan I. O. O. F. and Olive Lodge. The service will take place at the Temple M. E.

Church. Further announcement as to the program and date will be published later.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Burroughs and son, Julian, of Long Island City again made their usual week-end trip to Maple Dell.

Martin J. Every of Traver Hollow reports a healthy batch of 75 turkeys from his second incubator setting of 100 eggs. The other batch of 47 last week are doing wonderfully and he has not lost a single one to date.

The condition of Mrs. Emily North, who has been critically ill in bed for the past two weeks, is now reported as showing a little improvement. Mrs. North has the well wishes of a host of friends who hope for her ultimate recovery.

Word has been received that either on the day of the death of Uncle Jake Crispell of Shokan several weeks ago, or the day he was buried, his brother, Conrad, who for many years has resided in Michigan, also died at the ripe old age of 81. Uncle Jake was 80 the past December.

The Ladies Aid met Wednesday at the church basement for their usual weekly quilting.

The weather in this locality is very dry. The shower of Saturday evening afforded but temporary relief.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Leland P. Hamilton and family of Oneonta, who are well known here, enjoyed a trip around the reservoir, having dinner at the Winchell restaurant at Shokan, and later paying a call on Mrs. Watson Bishop.

Norman Van Buren of Brodhead is busy putting in a gas service station and otherwise making ready for the conducting of a wayside tourists' resort.

Robert Merrihew has his cellar excavating finished for his new Brodhead bungalow.

Farmers are right busy these days making ready for corn planting. Olive jurors drawn for the trial panel of County court to convene June 5 are Jarvis Burgher of Krumville and Elwyn Davis now serving as foreman of the grand jury.

Ferch are biting vigorously, also an occasional lake trout and pickerel are being landed from the reservoir waters.

Just a year ago the big huckleberry fire was raging which burned over thousands of acres on High Point, and required hundreds of men working in relays to bring it under control.

Paeorby and the many visitors at Rock Cliff Gardens, home of Judge and Mrs. E. H. Winchell, on the Saranacville road, marvel at the profusion of tulip beds in bloom. Over 400 of the beautiful blooms have been counted. The hyacinths and daffodils which for a season blended in the picture of colors have faded from the picture.

Following the tulips will be the peonies and then the iris. Some hundred clumps of assorted colors give indications of plenty of blooms. 500 daffodils and 150 varieties of annuals have been set. An event looked forward to is the coming of the roses, red, white, pink and yellow, in considerable profusion. The hollyhocks too are fine so far and Mr. Winchell trusts to the god of flowers that the rust which proved troublesome last year will be less in evidence. Gradually a move is being made to more perennials in place of annuals as they make for less attention on the part of the busy husbandmen. The Forsythia was very pretty and the Rose of Sharon, there are a dozen big and little, are coming into bud, while the Spirea and bridal wreath are in full leaf also the snowball and syringas, and lastly in covering a futile description of this haven of flowers by the side of the road the lilacs, both white and purple, are blooming at their best.

HIGHLAND

Highland, May 25.—Miss Eliza Raymond was the week-end guest of friends in Albany.

Mrs. Laura T. Vail entertained guests over the week-end from Poughkeepsie.

Fred Wilsey of Vineyard avenue was a recent guest of relatives in Copake.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Davis and family of Albany were recent guests of Mrs. Mabel Hasbrouck.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Freer and family were guests Sunday of friends in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Fisher, had week-end guests from Seatonsville, Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Dickenson of Newark, N. J., were week-end guests of the Thatchers.

Mrs. George Fowler has had as her guest for a week, her sister, Mrs. Grace B. Fisher, of Monticello.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Clearwater were week-end guests of friends in Deposit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Schofield entertained Sunday guests from Middletown.

David Merritt of Kingston road is having his house painted.

Mrs. Clifton B. Carpenter and daughter, Elaine, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wright in Maybrook.

Twenty-two members of Ida M. Kinley Council, D. of A., of this place attended a meeting of Woodstock Lodge last Tuesday evening. State councilor of the J. O. U. A. M. Mr. Knapp was present. There is a movement on hand to start a D. of A. there. Mrs. R. H. Decker and Mrs. D. H. Kurtz gave remarks in regard to it. A hot roast beef dinner was served and it certainly was delicious.

Whitney Examined Concerning Sales Of Alleghany Stock

Senate Banking Committee Inquires Into Special Stock List Transactions of J. P. Morgan & Company.

Washington, May 25 (AP).—Members of the Senate banking committee staff said today that former President Calvin Coolidge's name was on one of the lists of clients that J. P. Morgan & Company allowed to participate in securities purchased at below-the-market prices.

The list had not been put in the committee record, the investigation proceeding for its third day in expectation that further lists would be included, however.

Meanwhile the committee examined George Whitney—a Morgan partner—closely as to prominent participants in the special Alleghany stock sale as listed in evidence submitted. The questions dealt especially with John J. Raskol, former Democratic national committee chairman, and J. R. Nutt, high in Republican ranks as party treasurer. The committee officials declined to disclose details of the Coolidge purchase, except to say that it was long after he retired as president in 1929.

As the hearing progressed, unusual precautions were maintained to guard the huge crowded room—capitol police and department of justice operatives being on hand watching the massive pile of documentary evidence at the disposal of Ferdinand Pecora, the committee counsel, and making sure that no suspicious packages were carried into the hearing by visitors.

About the Folks

Miss Carolyn E. Hearn of New street, a member of the faculty at School No. 5 was taken suddenly ill this morning and fainted at the school. She was removed to the Kingston Hospital in the ambulance.

ST. REMY

St. Remy, May 25.—Sunday services May 28 will be as follows: Sunday school, 1:30. Church service by the pastor, the Rev. Philip Goertz, at 2:30 p. m. All are welcome to these services.

George Ostrander recently fell from a ladder and dislocated his leg. Rain is much needed to start the gardens. Farmers are planting their corn and potatoes.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its last meeting June 1 in the Sunday School room.

Walter Durham visited his father, Howard Durham, last week.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 25 (AP).—Financial markets paused today, after the brisk upturn of the past two sessions, which carried industrial and rail stocks to the highest average levels since November of 1931.

Wheat was reactionary in the early trading, losing more than a cent, which appeared to have a dampening effect upon shares, but cotton held up fairly well. Stocks called for a time in the morning under leadership of the rails then became unsettled. Trading continued to substantial volume.

Shares of Allied Chemical Co., which has not yet settled its differences with the stock exchange, tumbled 5 points in the forenoon, then recovered partly. U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Case, DuPont and several other issues sagged fractions to a point. Tobacco strengthened, with gains of a couple of points for American Tobacco "B" and Liggett & Myers "R", while a number of rails, including Santa Fe, Delaware & Hudson and Louisville & Nashville, firmed a point or two. Union Pacific met realizing after yesterday's spurt. Neither motors nor oils did much.

The semi-annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute brought much hopeful comment from steel executives, most of whom viewed the upturn in their business as distinctly encouraging.

The action of the governing committee of the Stock Exchange in ordering removal from listing of Allied Chemical by August 23, if the company still refuses by that time to make available such information to its stockholders as the committee on the stock list deems adequate, attracted wide attention in Wall Street.

Quotations given by Parker, McElroy & Co., members, N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York City; branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

Local Death Record

Henrietta W. Elsworth died at the home for the Aged Wednesday. Funeral from the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in the Wilkewick cemetery. Deceased was a daughter of the late Elijah and Sarah Blackwell Elsworth. Surviving are one sister, Mrs. T. V. Perry of Kingston and one brother, Charles Elsworth of Rosendale.

Edward C. Quimby died at his residence, 34 Andrew street, Wednesday. Funeral from there Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment will be in Wilkewick cemetery. Surviving are his wife, three sons, Charles E. Quimby of Worcester, Mass., Arthur C. of Kingston and Lawrence F. of Waterford, N. Y., and seven grandchildren. Mr. Quimby was a member of St. James M. E. Church. He was a school teacher until 1915 when he retired. He resided in Kingston for the past 30 years, coming here from Milton where he was born.

The funeral of George W. Spielman was held from his late home, 53 Brewster street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Charles B. Smith, pastor of the Wurst Street Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a member for many years, officiated at the services which were largely attended. At the conclusion of the services at the home Mrs. Fred Williams sang very feelingly "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Many beautiful floral tributes were sent to the home by sorrowing relatives and friends. The bearers were members of the family and interment was in the family plot in Wilkewick cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Smith read the committal services as the body was laid to rest.

Still Time to Join Memorial Parade

At the meeting Wednesday of the Memorial Day committee planning for the celebration here Tuesday morning, May 30, it was announced that plans are almost complete for the big parade, but that there is room for any organization wishing to join in the patriotic demonstration which has not yet informed Major O. R. Hiltibrant, grand marshal. The major will be pleased to hear from organizations wishing to join the parade. This year invitations were sent out by mail as in the past, inviting societies to take part in the Memorial Day exercises in honor of deceased war veterans, but all organizations of the city were urged through the press to have a part in the program.

FOREVER IT'S TRUE

By ROBERT INWOOD

There's a tree that stands near a valley's path
That will whisper a message
When the branches stir in the gentle breeze
My sweetheart, again you will hear
What I told you one night in the glowing Forever and ever it's true
"Yes, I love you my darling, I love you
I'll never lose any but you."

Our expert artisans can be depended upon to produce a memorial of lasting strength and beauty. Whether you choose a small stone, or a large one, equal attention is paid to all.

Emergency Relief Clothing Bureau

A report on the activities of the emergency relief clothing bureau which is now located in the old armory on Broadway has been made by M. H. Herzog, chairman of the emergency work relief committee. The report follows:

This bureau has been operating since March 25 of this year and has given out 4,402 articles of clothing and shoes. This includes 355 pairs of shoes, 270 pairs of which were repaired before leaving our work rooms at the old armory on Broadway; also 740 girls and women's dresses.

The following articles have been manufactured at our work shop from material kindly donated by local factories and merchants: 61 men's shirts, 104 boys' wash suits, 126 boys' blouses, 68 girls' dresses, 38 girls' slips, 12 dozen diapers, 73 pairs boys' knickers, 23 pairs boys' pants, 16 pairs boys' shorts, 20 baby dresses.

All of these articles were distributed among the needy in addition to 2728 pieces of various men's, women's and children's clothing.

Through the generous response of our good citizens, local factories and merchants this has been accomplished. Money has been donated by Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Higgins, Miss M. L. Parsons and E. T. McGill and we wish to take this opportunity to thank one and all for their wonderful support.

This office also supplies bed clothing, baby layettes and medical supplies to the Home Relief Bureau, who take care of the sick. Six baby layettes have already been given out and six more are ordered for the near future. These medical supplies have been donated by McBride's, Miller's, Bonagatti's and Weber's Drug Stores and material for clothing by the various ladies' organizations and we wish to express our sincere gratitude to all.

Funds for our purposes are now exhausted and this bureau intends to hold a ball in the near future for the benefit of the Emergency Relief Clothing Bureau in order that our assistance to the needy may continue. The date will be announced shortly and we feel sure that this ball will be a success if we have the same cooperation as in the past.

Again thanking one and all,
EMERGENCY RELIEF CLOTHING BUREAU.

Chairman.

Depression 'On Trial' At World Economic Meet

London Parley June 12

Seeks Nation's Accord

On Recovery Program

(Editor's Note: This is the first of six articles presenting the aims of the chief nations at the world economic and monetary conference which assembles in London on June 12. Today's story, by Oscar Leiding, of the London staff of the Associated Press, gives the general setting of the gathering and explains what England expects from it.)

By OSCAR LEIDING.

London (AP).—With General Depression as the accused, a great court martial, the world economic and monetary conference, will be held here beginning June 12.

There will be no defense when the court convenes in London's new million-dollar Geology museum in South Kensington—only a prosecution made up of statesmen and economic and financial experts from 50 or more nations.

King George, as host, will welcome the distinguished delegates and, as chairman and chief prosecutor, Britain contributes her prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald.

Cooperation MacDonald Thinks. The role will mark a new epoch in the MacDonald career. For years he has been preaching that good will and cooperation constitute the world's means of salvation.

None has been more impatient than he for immediate remedial action and he has chafed at the delays have put off the big conference through the past year.

"The all-comprehending problem," says MacDonald, "is how to get the riches of the world enjoyed by the people who dwell in it."

With nearly 3,000,000 of her insured workers alone unemployed, her trade moving under reduced steam, and her markets cut by untold currencies, Britain has at first hand a lesson in the need of remedies.

As Britain Views It.

To attain the objective of prosperity, British opinion is generally agreed that certain salient steps must be taken. They include raising of prices of raw produce, removal of trade barriers and ultimate stabilization of currencies.

It is a definite opinion of the Eng-

SIX ITEMS STRESSED ON LONDON AGENDA

General (P)—The League of Nations, under whose auspices the world economic conference will be held in London, has prepared a program in six parts. The divisions are:

- Monetary and credit policy
- Prices
- Restoration of the movement of capital
- Restrictions on international trade
- Tariffs and trade treaties
- Organized control of production and trade

Joseph Avenol of France, successor to Sir Eric Drummond as secretary general of the league, probably will present this agenda to the big gathering.

ish also that the return of prosperity will depend largely upon the settlement of war debts. But that subject is not on the agenda of the conference.

Britain's prices in common with the rest of the world have been swept precipitately downward in the general crumbling of values. The extent of the decline is evidenced by government figures which show that with 100 as the whole-sale price index in 1929, it had slumped to 88 in 1930, 76 in 1931, and 74 last year.

Trade Barriers Loom Large.

British conditions to the working out of a satisfactory panacea for the world's ills further include another interwoven factor—removal of trade barriers.

Excessive tariffs, quotas and exchange restrictions are viewed as leading obstacles to the flow of trade. And Britain, her free trade days now but a memory, has in her hands a bargaining weapon she intends to use.

The country has a primary interest in seeking freer trade throughout the world because, with a great population packed into a small area, the livelihood of many of its people is dependent upon the success of export industries.

There is little disposition among authorities here to believe that Britain's use of her bargaining weapon will be hampered by the Ottawa agreements, against which the most frequent criticism has been that British hands are now tied.

The answer given to this criticism is the citing of recent trade agreements with Argentina, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Germany.

Weapon Held Powerful.

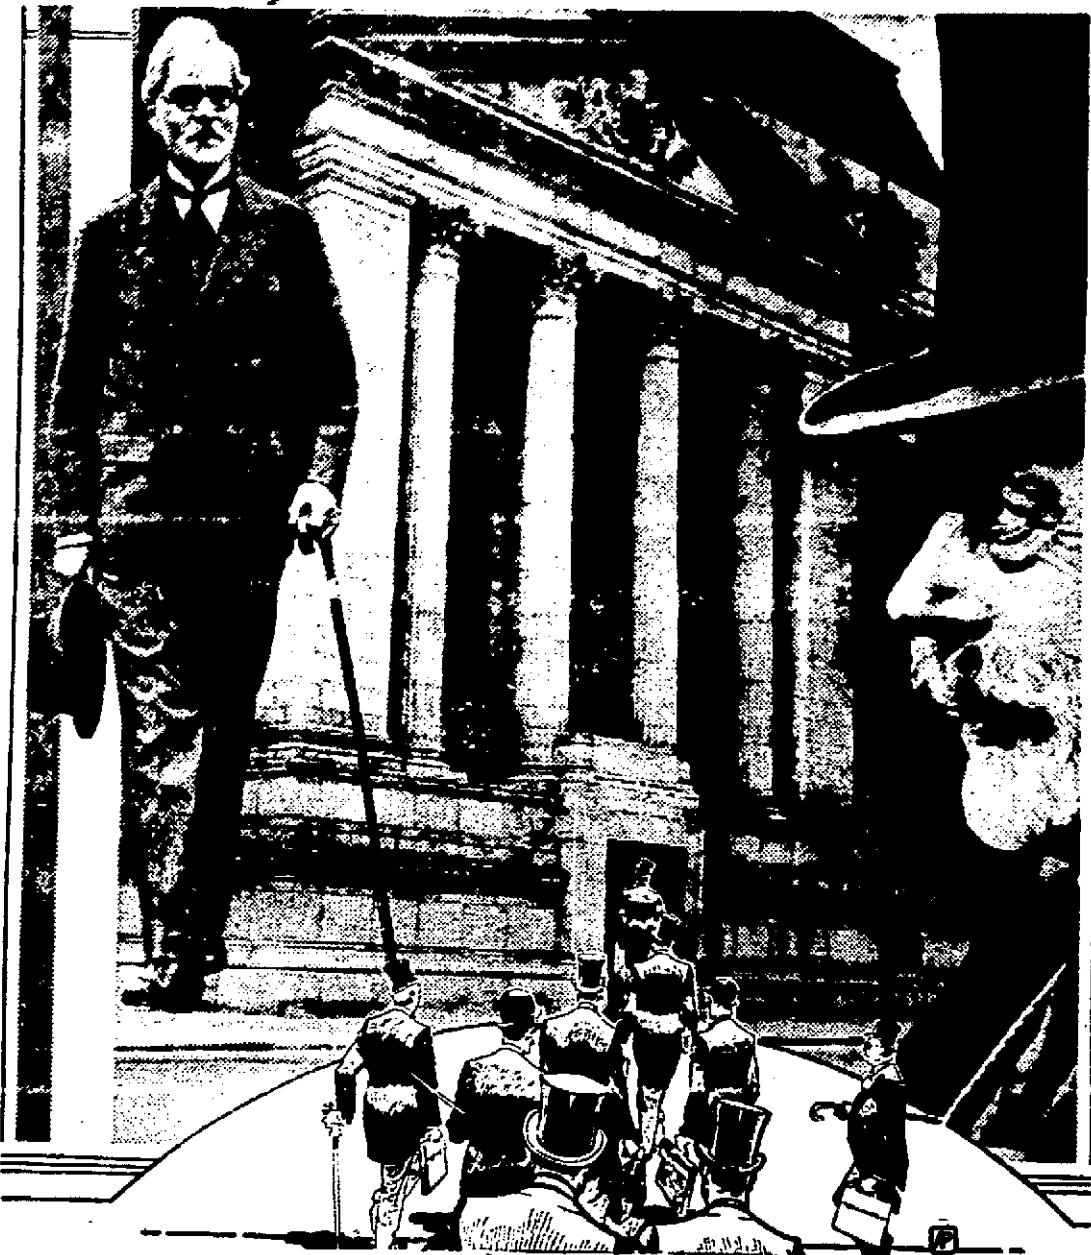

If the reply goes, success can be attained through discussions with individual countries. It can only mean that the bargaining weapon would be no less powerful in a comprehensive discussion with all countries at the economic conference.

America's move in stepping off gold has met with a variety of explanations, but its bearing on Britain is accepted in many quarters as a bolstering of the case for an international currency policy.

The breakdown of the time-honored method of anchoring national currencies and prices to gold seems to have set British opinion firmly against any return until the causes of the breakdown are definitely eliminated.

Scene Of Coming Conference And Its Hosts

The world economic and monetary conference, opening June 12 in London's magnificent new Geology museum, will have as chairman Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and will be welcomed by King George. Delegates from 50 or more nations will assemble, their dossiers packed with problems and issues pertinent to a solution of the world's vexatious problems.

.... BUT CHEAP FRANKFURTS CAN CONCEAL CHEAP MEATS!

Be sure of Frankfurts, or any other sausage you buy. Like eggs they look alike. You can't tell just by looking at them. Frankfurts can be sold cheap if they are made of cheap ingredients. It is important that you know the inside story of the Frankfurt you buy.

Take First Prize Frankfurts. They are made of choice beef and pork, rigidly selected and delicately blended with the finest imported spices. The making process is scrupulously clean and sanitary from start to finish. We invite you to visit the First Prize plant to watch every move we make so you'll understand why First Prize Frankfurts taste so good.

Cheap price must mean cheap food. No maker can afford to put in more value than he charges for. Your table is no place to take chances. If you've been gambling on sausage, begin playing safe today—ask for First Prize Frankfurts.

Repeaters Rally In Fourth to Win Over Schryvers

One big inning—the fourth—was all Morgan's Repeaters needed to defeat Schryver's Lumbermen at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening. They won by a score of 5 to 3 and by doing so have defeated every team in the City League, without suffering a loss. To date they have hung up a string of five consecutive victories.

In their winning rally the Repeaters jumped on Bill Hornbeck, Lumbermen's pitcher, for five hits in a row, which netted four runs. All the hits came after two putouts were made.

Hornbeck was sailing along nicely until the Repeaters found the range with their howitzers, and before the guns were silenced Ed Wilson had to be called to the firing line. Wilson stemmed the Repeaters' attack without a run being scored on him and pitched shutout ball for the remainder of the game.

Ted Fraleigh, star pitcher of the Repeaters, went the full route. He didn't allow a hit for the first three innings, but from then on the going was a little rough. Seven hits were collected off his delivery.

Pres Knight opened the way for the Repeaters' victory in the fourth inning. Hornbeck had struck out the first two men to face him in this inning and it looked as though he would get through the inning as easy as he did the first three until Knight made his appearance and singled to center field. He stole second and scored on Charlie Tiano's single to right field. Merritt singled to left field and Morgan doubled to right field to score Tiano. Then Sickler drove a single to right field and Merritt and Morgan doubled the rubber. The Repeaters' other run came in the first inning. Charlie Lay hit a triple and Knight a single to produce the marker.

The fourth inning also was the Lumbermen's best. They manufactured two in this frame. Slover started with a single, stole second and registered on a double by Bob McGuire. Jansen sent McGuire home with a triple to left field. Errors by Sickler and Tiano on McGuire's grounder resulted in the Lumbermen's last tally in the sixth. McGuire reached second on the miscues and scored on Petersen's single to left field.

Norm Niles didn't handle the ball so clean at second, but managed to knock the fast ones down and get his man at first. He took a hit away from C. Tiano in the second.

McGuire had plenty of time to get Morgan at the plate in the Repeaters' rally, but failed to touch him. The score:

Walloping Wally

Tagging Major League Bases

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)
When Connie Mack sold three star players to the Chicago White Sox and maintained the Philadelphia Athletics still could put a team on the field that would be a pennant contender, echoes of the more or less subdued laughter of the "experts" rang all around the American League. But it appears that after all the "tall talk" knew what he was talking about.

An outfield consisting of Ed Coleman, Bob Johnson and Roger Cramer, all youngsters; a rookie, Frank Higgins, at third base and another, Eddie Cihocki, at short hardly looks like the material of which a contender is made, but with these players, plus Jimmie Foss, Mickey Cochrane and Lefty Grove, the A's have been winning ball games since they began their home stand against the west.

A week after the season started the Athletics were in the American League cellar. They started hitting on the return home, in ten days have won seven out of eight games, and have climbed finally into the first division.

Overhaul Browns
They made the final step into fourth place yesterday by wallowing the St. Louis Browns 7 to 4 in a game cut short in the sixth inning by a thunderstorm that flooded the field and started a small fire when lightning struck a recently vacated part of the stands. The A's gathered only six hits off Bump Hadley but they placed them well behind walks, scoring five runs in the fifth.

Grove made his fourth successive appearance in the finishing role, pitching the last inning. Cleveland was rained out at New York. The Chicago White Sox gained second place when they were kept idle at Boston.

The Washington Senators, previous holders of second, ran into Tommy Bridges' second one-hit game of the season and went down faced only 29 men as he lost a perfect game for the third time in his short career. Joe Kuhel clouted a home run in the eighth and Dave Harris, who spoiled Tommy's first chance for a no-hit game with a pinch single last year, was carefully walked.

Pirates Increase Lead.

In the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates increased their lead over New York to three games by pounding steadily at Brooklyn pitching until they won out 6-5 in the tenth inning. The Cincinnati Reds meanwhile gave the Giants a 3-1 setback, falling on George Uhle in the first three innings for the winning runs while Bob Smith held New York in check.

The Chicago Cubs, after two defeats by the last-place Phillies, turned around and administered a sound 5-2 drubbing to their oppressors. Lon Warneke added a home run and a double to his pitching feats and Gabby Hartnett assisted with a circuit blow.

Boston and St. Louis were rained out.

Two Contests On The Trojans' Slate

The Kingston Trojans have, two games booked, one with Malden at that place Sunday afternoon and the other at Chichesterville with the team of that village for Memorial Day, Tuesday, May 30. Sunday, Uhle will pitch for the Trojans and McElrath catch. At Chichesterville Celuch or Walsh will pitch and McElrath catch.

Plants Drop Their Leaves
Most flowering plants which are grown in pots will naturally turn yellow and drop their leaves in due time after their flowers fade. Some of them will begin to grow again after a rest, but most may be discarded, as it will not pay to bother with them.

Trolley Cars Displace Camel
Trolley cars have substituted the camel journey from Cairo to the little town of Gaza.

BILLIARDS

Playing off one of the ties in the city billiard championship, Andy Krum defeated Andy Cherney 10-6 in 25 innings at Nick's. High runs were Cherney 21, Krum 15.

Veteran Victorious.

A special challenge match at the Koenig A. C. Wednesday, resulted in a 50-20 victory for Bert Teesell, 53-year-old cue shark over Stanley Hobart, a youth of 25. A large turnout of billiard enthusiasts witnessed the match.

To Settle Tie.

The battle to settle the triple tie for second place in the city billiard series will start tonight at Nick's with a match between Stan Wojcik and Charles Borie. The loser will meet Freddie Plancher, the other player involved in the tie. This battle will take place at the Koenig A. C. Friday. Wojcik, Borie and Plancher all finished the tourney with 12 victories and three defeats, deadlocked for second berth. Tony Gentile won the championship with 14 wins and one defeat.

The elimination round in preparation of the junior billiard tournament to be conducted by Tony Gentile at his Broadway parlor was scheduled to start this afternoon at 4 o'clock with a match between Johnny Mayone and Myron Herrick. Two matches are slated for tonight, one between John Berardi and William Golden at 7:30 and the other between John Dudek and D. W. McEntee, Jr., at 9 o'clock.

Other matches of the elimination, which will end next week, are scheduled as follows:
Friday—Francis Shilling vs. Palmer Brodhead, 4 p. m. John Whittaker vs. Jacob Bernato, 7:30 p. m. S. Warren vs. Clifton Quick, 9 p. m.
Saturday—Earl Mellow vs. Vincent

P. N. A. Club After Fourth Straight Win In Sunday Skirmish

Victorious in three consecutive games, the P. N. A. of Kingston try to make it four straight when they meet the Poughkeepsie P. N. A. Sunday afternoon at Hasbrouck Park. Starting time of the game 3 o'clock.

Teams taken into camps in this season were the Poughkeepsie Majestics, Uneda Blacuts of Beacon and Walden Red Sox. Last season the P. N. A. of Poughkeepsie defeated the same Kingston team that it faces Sunday. One contest ending 2-0 in favor of the visitors. The game this week-end promises to be just as interesting.

Opposing lineups:
Poughkeepsie—Wolezewski, 1b; Dykes, 1b; Kintzielawa, p; Lezon, 2b; Tulacz, ss; Nibola, c; Piezrak, rf; Kozeminski, lf.
Kingston P. N. A.—Huber, p; and Nichols, pitcher; Tomasek, Sczypta, Diddik, Cassidy, Lesch, Lucas, Williams, Lewis and Buren.

Kentucky farmers sowed 4,500,000 pounds of Korean lespedeza seed this spring, or 50 per cent more than in 1932.

Burns, 4 p. m. Arthur Elting vs. Herb Sussin, 7:30 p. m. Lloyd Snyder vs. Thomas Sickler, 9 p. m. Monday—Donald Boyce vs. John Zeeb at 4 p. m.

As soon as the elimination round is over, the tournament for the junior billiard title will get under way immediately, with 10 of the highest ranking players contesting it will finish some time in June.

Five Former Winners In 500-Mile Race

Memorial Day Classic Brings Together Record Field Of Dare-Devs

Here are the winners of five previous Indianapolis speed wars, all of whom will be pressing a heavy foot in the 500-mile grid May 30. They comprise the greatest line-up of ex-champions in the history of the event, and one of them is a good bet to score his second victory and tie the record of Tommy Milton. With the capacity of gas tanks greatly reduced and the piston displacement force seen at the Speedway. A 100 mile-an-hour pace was required in the qualifying trials.

Judge Louderback Acquitted.
Washington, May 23 (AP)—Federal Judge Harold Louderback is free to take again the bench in California, acquitted by the Senate on the five impeachment counts brought against him. He said to resign now would be "silly" and like playing into his enemies' hands, even though a majority of the Senate registered disapproval of his conduct in recusal cases by voting against him on the final general charge of conduct "prejudicial to the dignity of the judiciary."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press
Tallahassee, Fla., May 23 (AP)—For a few minutes, the lower house of the Florida legislature had as its official definition of a drunken man the following couplet:
"He is not drunk who from the floor can rise again and drink one more."
But he is drunk who prostrate lies and can neither drink nor rise.

The definition was introduced and adopted as an amendment to a bill to make unlawful drunkenness by voluntary use of liquor or narcotics. Later, after the amendment drew indignant criticism from the author of the original bill, it was stricken out.

She Said It's Spinach.
Kansas City, Kas.—Spinach leaves are placed in the same category with banana skins in a suit filed in the Wyandotte county district court.
Mrs. Margarette Bonner, a photographer, took $3,000 damages from a chain grocery alleging she suffered injuries when she slipped and fell on stray spinach leaves in front of one of the firm's stores.

What Price Modesty.
Muskegon, Okla.—Modesty permitted two filling station robbers to escape with $30 here. The robbers forced the attendants to undress, threw their clothing in the street and drove away. The attendants, clad only in shorts, stayed put. Passersby returned their clothes.

That Bike Craze
Dallas, Tex.—S. D. Murray appeared before the city council and complained the long walk to which he was accustomed of evenings had suddenly been menaced by hordes of wild cyclists. He claimed they thought nothing at all of knocking him down and frightening him. The city council promised to take the matter under advisement.

Just a Governor's Son
Blackwell, Okla.—Governor William H. Murray's son, Johnston, had to explain to police he wasn't a chicken thief, but only a gas company employee.

Arrested on complaint of a suspicious farmer, young Murray was released when he explained he entered a neighboring farmer's chicken house to read the gas meter.

Unwanted Thrill
New York—Joseph De Luca, lustily swinging a pick, looked down and held his breath in horror. The pick had struck one of 24 sticks of dynamite cached under a home built on piles at Lake Mohogan. Nothing happened. Police want to know who put the explosive there.

Nab Cop as Speeder
Cleveland—Patrolman Guy Linton of Willowick is wondering what happens when a speed cop gets arrested for speeding while chasing a speeder. He will have to answer a warrant charging speeding at 65 miles an hour, reckless driving and smashing a light pole "while racing" a motorist.

The speeder got away.

He Would Buy Canada
Columbus, Ohio — Representative Gus Knech of Akron introduced resolutions in the Ohio legislature calling upon the assembly to memorialize Congress to transfer West Virginia's "Panhandle" to Ohio, trade Alaska to Great Britain for the islands south of the center of the St. Lawrence, and cancel the British war debt in exchange for Canada.

Tough for the Kiddies
Beallsville, Pa.—The town council forbids any person to roll a hoop, or ride a bicycle, scooter, kiddie car, tricycle or roller skate or slide down hill on streets or sidewalks. Traffic dangers are given as the reason.

Service Center Sale.
Brown's Servicenter on central Broadway is holding a pre-Memorial Day sale of tires and motor car supplies. The building has been decorated with pennants and numerous lights and just south of the Servicenter is a high steel pole about which a number of tires have been placed. There is much speculation as to how the tires are placed over this high pole.

Population of Alaska
The 1930 census gave Alaska, including the Aleutian islands, a population of 30,278. This included 18,400 native born white and 10,180 foreign born white; 29,963 Indians, and 653 others. The largest city is Juneau, with a population of 4,043.

PIGSKIN HERO

Perker's Hide Saves Foot Of Boy, Now His Pal.

Johnny Gentry adopted this pig after a generous piece of its hide used in skin grafting saved the boy's mangled foot from possible amputation.

Kansas City (AP)—Mary had a little lamb, but Johnny Gentry has a little pig.
All the lamb did was follow Mary around, but the pig gave up a sizable piece of his skin to save Johnny's foot. No wonder Johnny is fond of his porcine pet.

Last winter Johnny, aged 6, suffered a crushed foot in a coasting accident, and surgeons feared they must resort to amputation. In a final effort to save the foot a skin-grafting operation was decided upon.

Human patient and animal "donor" were placed under anesthetic in General hospital, and a piece of hide from the pig's abdomen was grafted onto the mangled foot.

Hospital authorities gave the pig to Johnny, who promptly named the animal "Doc." Upon his release when success of the operation had put him on the road to recovery, the first "pal" Johnny demanded to see was "Doc."

A photographer visited the Gentry home, bent on taking Johnny's picture.
"Sure you can take a picture of me," Johnny told him, "if you'll take a picture of my pig, too."

PORT EWEN
Port Ewen, May 23.—A record crowd is expected at the strawberry short cake supper to be held from 5:30 on, this evening in the Methodist Church house. This is the annual strawberry short cake supper of the Ladies' Aid Society. At 8:15 an entertainment consisting of a play entitled "The Rag Society" will be given. The cast of characters is as follows:

Mrs. Winters, the hostess, a middle aged lady. Clara Tinney, Betsy Winters and Maria Winters, her little daughters, demure and mischievous.

Lots Jump and Harriet Clark. Miss Jennie Rush. Nora Short. Mrs. Bassett. Gladys Jump. Mrs. Collins. Wava Fowler. Miss Selma Guy. Amelia Rose. Miss Barbara Allen and Miss Harriet Allen, twins.

Lillian Mable and Vivian Stadt. Miss Martha Ann Hall and Mrs. Eliza Jane Hall, sisters. Ethel Schiecht and Jennie Schweigel. Mrs. Jane Tompkins and Jane Tompkins, aunt and cousin of the Halls. Florence Ellsworth and Elizabeth Tinney.

Amanda Tompkins. Ella Howe. Instrumental solo. Florence Ellsworth. A skit by Roger Mable and Wilson Tinney.

A free will offering will be taken at the entertainment. Alexander Luther of Bloomingburgh visited Henry Deane, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hornbeck and daughter, Dorothy, spent the week-end with Mrs. Hornbeck's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White, in Cortland. They also visited relatives in Groton.

Mrs. Lillian Smith spent several days this week with her brother, Louis Beeres and family in Kingston. Mrs. Paul Beaver, who has been very ill at her home on Green street, is improving.

Marginal Lands
The term "marginal lands" refers to lands that are unproductive in that they cannot be cultivated profitably.

High Falls

High Falls, May 23.—Mrs. Fanny DePay spent Sunday afternoon and took supper at the home of Miss Mary C. Van Wagonen.
Will Ayers of Briarcliff Manor motored up the past Saturday and stayed overnight with his father, John H. Ayers. On Saturday evening they motored up to Ellenville and called on friends.

The Ladies' Missionary Society will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon of this week at the home of the president, Mrs. Oscar Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Church and Miss Gwen Church motored to Poughkeepsie on Sunday and visited Kenneth D. Church and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Kingston were callers in this place Tuesday evening.

There was quite a shower on Saturday evening, which was very acceptable, but more rain is needed to make things grow in the gardens.

The new minister, the Rev. C. Howard, and wife are moving into the Reformed Church parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harris entertained a number of her relatives on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Alsdorf of The Clove has taken a position as housekeeper.

The Rev. C. Howard had charge of the service in the Reformed Church on Sunday morning. There was a good attendance at both church and Sunday school.

Mrs. S. E. Sheely has been having some interior decorating done.

There were guests at the home of Mrs. Mary Delamater on Sunday afternoon. Her cousin, who was one of the party, she had not seen for many years, and they spent a most enjoyable hour talking over old times.

Mrs. Alexander Stokes and son, Charles, visited her daughter, Mrs. Peter Smith, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Purcell of Mohawk Lake, were recent callers at the home of her mother.

Mrs. Barney Kelly of Briarcliff Manor has returned to her home at El Cliff Cottage for the summer.
The weather the first part of the week was quite cool but turned off much warmer on Wednesday.
A bath has just recently been put in the Reformed parsonage.
Mrs. David Wood was a caller at Robert Hurst Cottage Tuesday evening.

ST. MART'S SCOUT SHOW

ON THIS EVENING AT 8:15.

All is in readiness for St. Mary's Boy Scout show, "Review of the Century," in the school hall, Broadway and McEntee street, tonight, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Indications point to a first class performance in the form of a minstrel and a record attendance. Following the show there will be dancing. The minstrel will also be presented Friday.
